The Martians are Coming!

Sneak Preview

LEGO Model Designer Erik Varszegi turns a cool idea into a design for the Life on Mars Encounter Truck Tour.

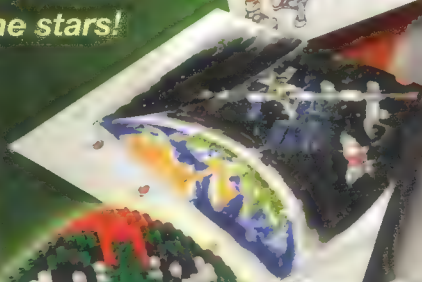

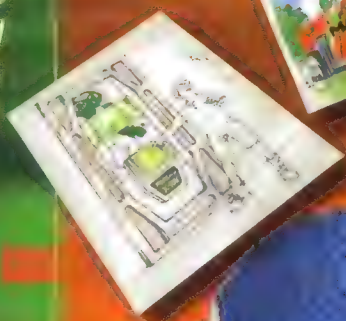

Get ready for a close encounter with Martians! Since you can't travel to Mars (yet), we're bringing the Martians to you. The LEGO® Life on Mars Encounter Truck Tour rolls out across the USA and Canada this summer. The tour takes off from the East Coast in June.

It's not as tough as building a space station, but the LEGO Master Model builders have been working on this project for a year. The Life on Mars Truck will be filled with artifacts from outer space, and amazing models of Martians, astronauts, and the International Space Station. Take a sneak peek at the drawings on this page to see what could be in the truck.

Check future issues for more tour news including tour dates and locations. In the meantime, watch the stars!

LEGO Maniacs can have their picture taken in this cool LEGO spacesuit!
